

Manufacturers Suggest Steps To Cut Public Aid

Expressing its concern at the rising cost of public assistance in Illinois, the board of directors of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association recently proposed a 13-point program aimed at alleviating the problem.

The board suggests, first, that the Illinois General Assembly abolish state aid to dependent children, blind assistance and disability assistance.

Other proposals which the board adopted in a resolution recommended by IMA's committee on social security and administration are:

Expansion of Lien Law
Adopt a lien law which would place a lien on real estate belonging to recipients of public assistance aid to dependent children, blind assistance and disability assistance. The state would be compensated for financial aid provided. A law relating to liens on property of old age assistance recipients was passed in Illinois General Assembly in 1961.

Require recipients of general assistance to make a new application for assistance periodically. This is a recommendation of eligibility can be made.

Require each able-bodied adult recipient of general assistance to perform services on public projects as a condition for receiving assistance.

Increase the residency requirement for recipients of public assistance from one year to two years.

Make local governments responsible for the collection of costs of public aid in the cities and townships, thus reducing the state costs and promoting a more effective job of administration.

Develop a publicity program to arouse public opinion to demand more efficient administration and reduce the costs of public aid.

Distribute surplus food instead of money to recipients of public aid, requiring recipients of aid to report how they spend the money they receive.

Require mothers who are receiving aid to dependent children to produce birth certificates of the children.

Empower the state auditor to audit payments and spot check cases of authorizations for payments.

Discourage indigent migrants from other states moving to Illinois.

GC Dancer Chosen For Opera Chorus

Rehearsals started in earnest this week for 15-year-old Jill Rayburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Rayburn of 2414 Madison. Jill was one of 14 new members chosen in auditions for the 26-member Municipal Opera dancing chorus.

After three weeks of daily rehearsals she will be ready for the 12-week summer program at Municipal Opera house.

Jill is a ninth grade student at Coolidge junior high school. Special arrangements had to be made for the girl to catch up on the school work she will miss going to rehearsals.

She has appeared at the Charlotte Peters television program for a week with only 11 years old.

She studied dancing at a studio in East St. Louis and more recently studied ballet in Clayton.

The young dancer won a ring in the local March of Dimes amateur contest and she once won an all-expense-paid trip to New York to perform. The amateur show she also has five trophies for dancing.

State Commission Suspends Licenses Of 4 Area Taverns

Special From Springfield
Five-day liquor license suspensions were handed down Tuesday to four Granite City and Madison taverns charged before the state liquor commission with possession of federal gaming stamps.

Suspended, beginning June 11, were the licenses of Bill Bell, 4369 Edwardeville road; William Tellor and James L. Atkins, licensees of the E & T tavern, 1422 Highway 67; J. Harrison, operator of Juc's Hideaway, 928 Grand Avenue, Madison; and John Morris, operator of John Morris' Tavern, 1500 Fourth street, Madison.

Handed down by Harold S. Cartwright of Chicago, chairman of the state liquor commission, the local suspensions were among 29 in Madison and St. Clair counties.

On Madison county license suspensions, the Highland Country Club, was for a 30-day period.

The tavern operators had been ordered to appear before the commission last month on grounds they were in violation of commission rules in possession of the state's gambling stamps. Most operators surrendered their gambling licenses to the commission.

Ruling Against County Hiring Private Lawyers

A county cannot expend funds to engage private attorneys to appear in litigation in which the county is a party. Attorney General William G. Clark has ruled in one of a group of opinions newly announced.

"It is the statutory duty of the attorney to represent his county in all legal actions and proceedings," Clark's opinion held.

A county treasurer by virtue of a legislative act is required to publish a financial report, Clark said.

A county treasurer in the U.S. cannot serve simultaneously as a village trustee, Clark has advised State's Attorney Dick H. Mudge Jr. of Madison.

In other new rulings, Clark has held that a county treasurer should not be filing from a municipality other than the port of a municipal treasurer, but he has no authority to determine whether the statement complies with the law.

Public Aid Litigation

Half brothers and sisters as well as "brothers or sisters" are liable for support of needy relatives under provisions of the Public Assistance Code.

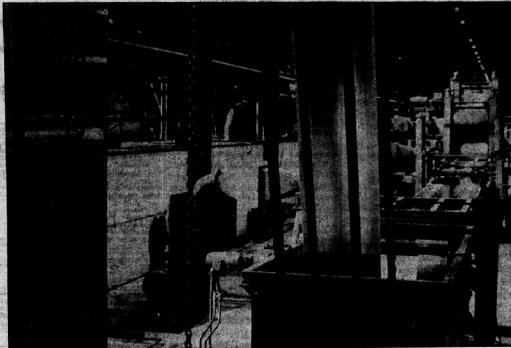

A candidate nominated by write-in voters is not required by statute to file a non-Commission oath or a certificate of candidacy.

It is the task of the Illinois Department of Mental Health to determine the number of mentally retarded children who are to receive benefits under the $50,000 appropriated for that purpose.

An election judge cannot sit as an election judge at an election in which he is a candidate for public office.

A county board has no authorization to make an appropriation to a town or advisor.

Carl F. Clark, of Granite City, the state authorizes a county board to appropriate up to $5000 a year to a soil conservation improvement association or like association organized for the improvement of general agriculture. If the county farm adviser is employed by such an association, the appropriation can be made to that association, the opinion said.

Two Sets of Twins Born Here This Week

Two sets of twins were born this week at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. David Jones, 2801 Emzee street, are the parents of a boy and a girl who arrived yesterday. The girl, Judith Lynn, weighed five pounds and seven ounces, and her twin brother, Jonathan Glen, weighed six pounds and seven ounces.

The other twins, both boys and weighing only an ounce difference, arrived for Mr. and Mrs. Alroy and Pauline, 418 Stearns Avenue, on Monday. They are Timothy James, who tipped the scale at five pounds and nine ounces, just one more than his brother, Gregory John.

There's a difference — some people acquire an advantage others just take it.

Training Of Employees Topic Of Rotary Talk.

Two sets of employees was discussed by Jack Friedman in a talk at yesterday's Madison Rotary club meeting. He reported on instruction in this field by the St. Louis Training Directors club and U. S. Small Business Administration last week.

Need MFT For Other Streets

Other chairmen added that the city has been "over-committed" and the state should at least agree to a 90 to 100 project. "We need our funds to improve some of the local streets," said Edwards.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Searcy of Waukegan, Ill., are announcing the birth of a daughter this morning at the Lake Forest hospital. The baby is a sister, Jennifer, to a 14-month-old Samuel Shackleford stated.

The city would pay the costs of the Fehling road.

Gitchko said that roadway has been considered the state because of the short space for autos at the connecting point between Nameoki road and the railroad tracks to West Pontoon road. He said the state had agreed to pay the entire cost of the roadway.

Opportunity Knocks Sunday For Hearts; Mercer Needs Win To Hold 1st-Place Tie

Granite City Sacred Heart gets a golden opportunity to take sole possession of second place in the Red division of the Southwestern Illinois Inter-City Baseball league Sunday, but the Hearts will have to do it in unfriendly territory.

Tied with Collinsville's Boosters, Sacred Heart plays that club on its home grounds, Fletcher Field, and the Hearts are tough to beat at home, as records from past years will prove.

The second local entry, Mercer Merchants, can move into first place, tie with McAtee Glass and Pocahontas in the Blue division by beating Roxana Merchants in a 2:30 p.m. game at Wilson Park.

The Merchants' new entry in the I-C league this spring, are finding things a bit rough; they are still looking for their initial victory.

Opponents, 5th Win

On the other side of the ledger, undefeated (4-0) Moose Lodge of East St. Louis seeks to make it five straight wins against Maryville's Red Sox in Maryville.

120 Mitchell Boy's Baseball Players To Kick Off Second Season Saturday

Opening ceremonies for the second baseball season of the Mitchell Community Sports Program will start at noon Saturday with a pot luck luncheon in the Mitchell grade school gymnasium by Judge Michael Kinney, a parade of players on the school diamonds and games in which six of the eight teams will play.

Team Sparks, program director, said over 120 boys, ages seven to 15, have signed to participate, and the organization has been set up so that the teams in the 7 to 9 year age group, three in the 10 to 12 group and two for boys 13 to 15. The team play and practice regularly on the two diamonds at the rear of the school.

More than 200 boys, parents and guests are expected for the pot luck luncheon, and Sparks said the family members to provide enough food for themselves.

Sponsored By 3 Clubs

A brief program following the luncheon will include a talk by the guest of honor, Judge Kinney, and comments by representatives of three clubs which sponsor the community sports program.

The directors are Francis Richardson and George Cripe, members of the Mitchell Kiwanis Club; Robert Bixler and Wendell Corey of the Mitchell Park and Athletic Association; Joseph P. Kelly and Gordon Ross of the Mitchell Democratic Club and also Philip Cripe. Team managers also will be introduced.

Sparks pointed out the community sports program was organized last year through contributions totaling $200 to buy uniforms and equipment, and each of the three clubs this year provided $100 for a total of $300 to second the program. The athletic equipment and business leaders also contributed uniforms.

Finances in the past will be of the boys' officials and Judge Kinney. It will be furnished by the colors and a band furnished

Granite City Braves — defending cup playoff champions who have won two straight since dropping the season's opener, are scheduled to play at Troy, while Red Birds are also with a 0-3 record. Carpenter, cooled off after a fast start, will try to even it record in Jones Park against East St. Louis McAtee Glass, always a tough team at home.

Farm Column

By TRUMAN W. MAY
Madison County Farm Advisor

According to forecasts, Illinois farmers will plant over five million acres of soybeans this year, and, of course, Madison county may also share in the sowing. They may also share the serious weed problems that are common to one-fourth of all the soybean plantings in the state. Illinois, incidentally, leads the nation in soybean production.

So far, not much progress has been made in developing post-emergence control methods. At present, time you can do is to use pre-emergence herbicides. Apply at planting time before weeds are up. And, as often happens, one of the best pre-emergence materials for soybeans, now has label clearance. It does a good job on most annual broad-leaved weeds as well as grasses. However, it is not available in only limited amounts in the liquid form. No granular Amiben will be available until after the growing season could cause great losses. Most farmers make it a regular practice to carry half insurance on their crops and to have a coverage on their farm buildings.

Illinois pet owners who do not have their free-running dogs vaccinated for rabies by June 1 may face a fine ranging from $25 to $100.

A large all-purpose pole type building has been completed on the farm of Grover Loesing, Collingsville township. It is 130 ft. long and 45 ft. wide, with high drive-in doors. There is space for implements, fertilizers, seeds and other supplies, with a cellar for vegetable storage and operations. The building was put up in a few days.

A "turn-over" plow owned by Louis Taylor of Trenton eliminates deep-tilling and eliminates the need for a second plow. It is reported to be the third three-bottom turn-over plow of its make sold in Illinois.

With the arrival of spring, many clubs are changing their getting into full swing with their project work and 4-H activities. One of the biggest and best years in 4-H activities and achievements is expected, with a membership of 10,000. The 1961 enrollment was 413 and the goal is 450 members in agriculture 4-H clubs in 1962. There are two

The Warden Green Knights were organized in April. They will have about 18 members. The leaders are Harvey Hopper and Albert Brandy.

The new club is the God Lucy Clovers. They had their first meeting April 27. They have about 15 members. The leaders are George Barker and Jim Holzschuh.

FACULTY AT NEAR-BY SIU CAMPUS FROM 49 SCHOOLS

Highest academic degrees held by faculty members at the Ed-wardsville Campus of Southern Illinois University were conferred by 49 different colleges and universities, a survey of the staff shows.

Philip E. Vogel, assistant professor of social studies at the campus, made the survey of the 169 faculty members. He found degrees from institutions in 27 states.

Seventeen members of the faculty received their highest degrees from Indiana University, followed by Columbia and the University of Illinois, with 12 each. Ten received degrees from Iowa.

MADISON GIRL TREATED; TAKES VITAMIN CAPSULES

A 16-year-old Madison girl was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital Monday afternoon after taking an undetermined number of vitamin capsules. She underwent a stomach lavage and was released seven hours later.

Also treated in the hospital emergency room Monday was a 16-year-old girl from 1525 Cottage Avenue. She had six sutures to close a laceration to the right arm.

Gary Misen, 10, of 616 Fleming place, required six sutures to close a laceration to a finger. He was injured when struck with a baseball bat.

Twelve other universities were the sources of highest degrees for two of the faculty members, while 18 schools located throughout the nation were the sources of degrees for one faculty member each.

Success is the world's reward for many little things well done.

Garbage Contract Bids Should Be Sought—Based On Detailed List Of Required Services

If the Granite City sanitation department is to be replaced with a private contractor, as recommended in the SIU governmental study report, adequate safeguards for taxpayers and residents should be included both in the procedures and in the contract.

A public call for sealed bids could be particularly helpful, since some council members believe the department is overpaid. More than the city has been spending for similar services. And an opportunity for all interested firms to participate is the best way to get the lowest possible bid.

The cost, of course, has a direct relationship to the work and equipment to be provided. To protect the interest of all Granite Cityans, the contract should spell out in detail the frequency of garbage and refuse collections at homes and business places, the number and type of vehicles, the facilities and general requirements for the disposal of the amount of the performance bond to guarantee proper service, measures necessary to guard public health during collection and at the dumping area, the contractor's rights regarding re-use of collected materials, and all other provisions deemed of value.

Apparently the offers were obtained before some of these details were worked out, further placing in doubt whether the best price has been secured.

There should not be so much haste that the city committee itself before it really knows what adequate service has been fully defined and whether a reasonable bid has been obtained, based on a thorough description of work to be performed. The step is an important one and should be taken only after the aldermen and public have all the facts on which to base an opinion.

Residents Should Attend Important Hearings On Zoning In This Area

With Granite City added to the schedule, four of the zoning hearings will be held on June 5. The zoning hearings will take place in the Quad-Cities the first at 1 p.m. Tuesday, June 5 in Nameoki township. Local groups and citizens supporting zoning adoption should begin making plans now to be present and prepared to speak out.

The only official purpose of such hearings is to correct proposed zoning maps and to improve the wording of the proposed zoning ordinance, based on information from residents of the township involved.

The zoning would be a shame, even a tragedy, if a few zoning objectors, aided by public apathy, were to succeed in spreading so much misinformation and confusion that the County Board backed away from an entirely reasonable, fair and needed program.

Necessary For Safety

Boat Operators Also Have Rules Of Road

(First of a series)

"Rules of the road" must be learned whether one is a boat owner as well as an auto, and the important task of instructing new boat owners and refreshing the memories of veteran pilots has been launched.

Information activities of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, responsible for safe navigation in the Mississippi and its other rivers and their tributaries are of great interest in the Quad-Cities, which boasts speedboat and cruiser operators numbering well into the hundreds, perhaps thousands.

Special police is being given again this year due to continued construction of the Chain of Rocks locks and dams which has proceeded to the point where passage of all vessels has been discontinued through the Chain of Rocks reach of the Mississippi.

Since boats, floating derrick cranes, workboats, anchor boats, mooring lines, and other construction equipment are located both above and below the low water dam, all navigation is prohibited in the river area adjacent to the dam, 2000 feet upstream and 2000 feet downstream.

There is ample explanatory material, thanks to the Corps of Engineers, and the Coast Guard Auxiliary. Several clubs in this area also encourage boating safety and courtesy.

On the surface—the best place to travel in a boat—there appears to be little need for rules or precautions. The expense of water travel, however, makes it a poor, vast and safe in comparison to narrow highways, with autos zooming past each other at combined speeds of 150 miles an hour and with three or four feet of margin between them, palins Water Turbent.

But many hazards exist, not the least of which is the canal and lock system itself. Though most aquatic craft pass through dams and locks is extremely turbulent, especially when the level is being raised or lowered.

The Army Corps has distributed lists of 14 safety guides in its booklet, "Locking Through," one of the papers and pamphlets available at its office, 420 Locust street, St. Louis.

There are many floating navigation locks such as those at Granite City and Alton, stay between the red and black buoys. They mark the navigation channel.

When approaching a lock, wait for the lockmaster to signal that the boat may enter. Craft going downstream should wait their turn, two feet upstream from the end of the guide wall until the signal to enter is received. This is particularly important if large boats are required to leave the lock and are headed in the direction of the small vessel.

At some locks, the boat operator may signal the lockmaster that he wishes passage by using a signaling device located on the lock wall.

Red, Yellow Green Signals. 4. Traffic signal lights guide boats at each lock. They are mounted on poles, flanking embankments, approach, but under full control; flashing green, enter the lock.

5. The lockmaster may also signal with an air horn. One long blast means enter the lock; two long blasts, enter the riverward lock; one short blast, leave the landward lock.

Dr. Walters Is Author Of Magazine Article

Dr. Richard E. Walters, M.D., medical director for Granite City Steel Co., is the author of an article, "Alcoholics You Can Help Convert Them," appearing in the current issue of the American Association of Industrial Nurses Journal. This magazine is the nationally circulated publication of the industrial nursing specialty.

Finally, writes Dr. Walters the industrial nurse is in a position to understand the relationship between the man and his job as well as the on-the-job problems which alcoholism creates.

Vacation Loan Plan At GC Public Library

The vacation borrowing plan is now in effect at the public library. Mrs. Mary Gene Knutke, announced this week.

Under the plan, which has been in effect for several years, books may be checked out for four weeks instead of the usual two-week period.

"We must reserve the right to lend certain popular books for shorter periods," the librarian said, "but the general purpose is to give people more time to read during vacation periods."

Mrs. Knutke said the library's summer story hour program is scheduled to begin July 10.

Climaxing Armed Forces Week observances in the area will be an open house from 10 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. Saturday at the Granite City Engineer Depot.

Col. John M. Ansley, depot commander, has invited the public to attend.

With an accurate idea of the true scope of the depot's operations it is hard to conceive, Col. Ansley said, that the public in this area observes some of the heavy equipment serviced and used on the post, and other depot activities.

Also on display at the depot will be performances of precision drill, a retreat ceremony will be conducted at 4:15 p.m. and stationed here have been undergoing rigorous anti-guerrilla warfare training, and engineering training is a constant process at the post.

Fulfilling its maintenance mission, the depot serves military personnel in the 15-state area. Depot personnel also receive photographic and map reproduction and other electronic and infra-red equipment for military units throughout the nation.

For the convenience of visitors, hourly hours of the post will be posted. The commander said full information on the days activities will be available at the main depot gate.

During the day the depot library and enlisted men's service club will be open to the public.

Special Displays

Special displays will show explosive devices, including various kinds of mines, while a complete field kitchen also will be shown. Refreshment stands will be in operation during the day.

Again this year, the theme of the Armed Forces Week activities throughout the nation is "Power for Peace."

First used by military personnel just after its completion in 1942, the Granite City depot is now a 406 acre post and staffed by some 1200 civilian civilian and military personnel as well as the military.

The largest installation of its type in the United States, the engineer depot has an annual civilian and military payroll of more than $6-million. An additional $2-million is spent locally on supplies, equipment, supplies, utilities and services.

Basically, the missions of the depot are supply, maintenance,
